Dear Friends and Family:

As we head into the holiday season and wrap up 2019, I wanted to take a moment and reflect on this year. It has been quite the year, filled with new experiences and adventures. Throughout, I have felt so supported by my friends and family and wanted to express my sincerest gratitude. From showing up to book signings and talks or just calling to ease my nerves about one thing or another, you all have been immensely helpful.

I wish you and your families a healthy and happy holiday season.

With love,

Rohina
